

April 4, 2022

Meeting number 863 of the Farmington Senior Citizens was called to order at 12:05 PM on Monday, April 4, 2022, by President, Gary Weidenborner. 19 members and four guests were present. We welcomed our guests Morris and Bonnie Lew and Rose and Dan Giroux. Then we enjoyed our sandwich and dessert lunch.

At 12:40 PM, Vice President Ruth Weidenborner introduced our guest speaker, Town of Farmington Court Judge Morris Lew. Judge Lew explained facts about our Court Systems, the hierarchy of Courts in New York, and the types of courts and cases handled, such as Criminal, Family, or Surrogate Court. Then he talked about the Town of Farmington Court System. Based on the statistic of the amount of fines and surcharges submitted to New York State, the Town of Farmington is one of the busiest in New York. Based on the Town's position along the Thruway, the Court is very busy and handles a lot of traffic matters, including DWI's. Finally, he shared some information on the court's interaction with Senior Citizens. He gave us information on how to recognize Elder Abuse. Then Judge Lew answered members' questions.

President Gary Weidenborner resumed the regular meeting about 1:45 PM.
